LITTLE LUXURIES

WALLCOVERINGS

We are seeking a talented and experienced

WALLCOVERINGS DESIGNER

Smith & Fellows Ltd. design and create luxury wallcoverings that are sold through a global network of distribution partners.

We are looking for an ambitious and talented product designer to join our fast growing business. Based in Horsted Keynes, West Sussex, our offices and studio are in an idyllic setting.

You'll be joining the business at a very exciting time, we are already established with several key international distributors and our innovative, elegant wallcoverings are in great demand. Whilst we need to continue to represent leading-edge, innovative design, our customers demand commercially-focused products that create strong sales.

We are now looking to take our design capability to the next level and need an experienced, talented individual to lead the way.

Please send your CV and samples of your work, by e-mail, to Alan Hancock: alan@smithandfellows.co.uk, including details of your current salary package.
